chrome browser for android downloads nexus 7 internet chrome for android go to home screen go to settings apps chrome nexus 7 http I'm enjoying using my Nexus 7 now. It's just a smaller version of my laptop screen with the browser and email program (Chrome). The web browser is fast, and I've already saved several websites for later reading. My only concern is that every time I go to Youtube, there are two or three ads right at the bottom of the page. I have plenty of empty space on the bottom of the screen, so I'm wondering if those ads are. My first thought is to close the browser. But when I tried to do that, there were other tabs with 3 or 4 ads on them. I'm not sure what to do. Is this some sort of adware? Does anybody know how I can get rid of it? Thanks I don't have this problem on my Nexus 7, so I'm wondering if maybe the ads are just on other people's devices. Kindly, Bill A: Chrome web browser - ads Hi, I think you have PopUpBlocker plugin installed on your PC. You can download browser for Android HERE When you using PopUpBlocker plugin make sure there are no ads on your pages. If you have problem with this, just delete pop blocker from your PC. Regards Please check your browser settings before downloading new browser - I'm sure you'll choose right settings for starting that browser for Android. If you still have problems: right click on the page you have problems with. Click "inspect". Click "disable" on option called "block modification on" from both of these tabs: Then right click anywhere on the page that is displaying ads. Click "disable". Reboot PC. A: Using Amazon FireOS offers the advantage of a long operating system update of 3 years, where you are only tempted to buy the latest and greatest. The most outdated version of fireos is 2.2.2, which is 5.5.x. Then the updates are almost not available for one and a half years - if not available at all. This is because Amazon is eager to release a new version as soon as it is publicly known (if you can imagine). Buy the newest version, get the
