AutoCAD is used by several billion users worldwide to create 2D and 3D drawings, technical documentation, web pages and video presentations. In 2012, the number of AutoCAD users surpassed 100 million, according to an article in the MIT Technology Review. AutoCAD is available for PCs, Macs, mobile devices, Windows Tablets and smartphones. As a member of the Autodesk family of products, AutoCAD was available for purchase on a per-seat license basis. The license fee was roughly equivalent to that of most other CAD programs at the time of AutoCAD's introduction. In the 1990s, Autodesk purchased the intellectual property of other software companies and discontinued many of their products. Following this acquisition, Autodesk redesigned most of its CAD products and replaced their previous core-based software with the Autodesk Revit product line. AutoCAD can be used for 2D drafting and design of walls, furniture, clothing, interiors, landscaping, mechanical systems, residential and commercial buildings, and more. It can be used for the creation of architectural drawings, blueprints, construction documents, technical drawings, flow charts, mechanical designs, and more. In addition to offering a vector-based modeling and drawing program, AutoCAD incorporates a wide range of specialized drafting tools to help users create industrial drawings, architectural drawings, electrical schematics, assembly drawings, CNC cutouts, floor plans, detailed drawings, maps, models, technical schematics, and more. The price of AutoCAD 2018 is $5,295, and the latest version is 18.2.8. One price includes standard license for AutoCAD and the latest version of AutoCAD for three users for personal or business use. A student pricing plan for Autodesk is available at a lower price of $1,595 per year. AutoCAD is available for PCs, Macs, mobile devices, and even Windows Tablets and smartphones. It is available in both the desktop and web versions. For China's population that is actively seeking knowledge, plenty of information can be found on WeChat, also known as Weixin. The number of subscribers to WeChat is more than 1.3 billion, and the number of users logged into WeChat has grown to 100 billion a day. "The user scale and the capability of WeChat have exceeded our expectations," said Zhang Jun, chairman of Tencent, the parent company of WeChat. Zhang shared some key statistics about WeChat at an event in Beijing on Thursday, and said that the mobile application has surpassed Facebook in China.

Q: overlap inline with javascript? I would like to merge inline and javascript to one div, to make it easy for the users. Here is my code: `div{ border: 1px solid red; margin: 10px; padding: 5px; }`

This text should be green How can I make this div green without using javaScript? A: I believe you need to set the background color of the div. `div { border: 1px solid red; margin: 10px; padding: 5px; background-color: #f00; }` This text should be green Old and new Worlds collide with Persona 5 New Years Party New Years is coming.
