an effect with X and Y coordinates and settings it to be random? I want to create a moving cube that is randomizing it's settings (i.e. it's size and rotation) and it's X and Y coordinates when the user hits space. Is this possible? I'm not quite sure how to start. A: Make a class that extends Sprite, for example GameSprite and override its update() function: override void update(float dt) { base.update(dt);
